

First draw your guidelines. The example is in color so you can see the difference, but you should draw yours lightly with regular pencil. You will erase these lines at the end.

1. Find section 1 and section 2. You are going to draw your eyes on the line that separates section 1 and 2, one on each side.
2. Draw your nose in section 2, on the line in the middle. Make it go all the way from the top of section 2 to the bottom.
3. Make your mouth in the middle of section 3.
4. Draw your ears on either side of section 2—make them fill from the top to the bottom of the section.
5. Hair starts half-way down section 1

Carefully erase your guidelines so you are left with just your face. All the different parts of your face are now drawn in the correct spot.

Now, think about how to put in details that make your face look more like you. For example:

- Change the face of the shape so it looks like yours; do you have a round face? A pointed face?
- Think about how your eyebrows look; are they straight or curved?
- Do you have a pointy nose or a round nose?
- Thick lips or thin lips?
- Do you smile a lot, or are you more serious?
- Do you have straight hair or curly hair?
